A RESOLUTION TO CONSIDER THE REPORT OF THE HEARING COMMITTEE IN THE MATTER
OF ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR LINDA G. DE PAUW (75/8)

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE FACULTY SENATE OF THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY:

- (1) That the Faculty Senate accepts the findings and conclusions of the Hearing Committee with respect to the History Department's 1973 decision regarding the promotion of Associate Professor Linda G. De Pauw;
- (2) That the Faculty Senate modifies the findings and conclusions of the Hearing Committee with respect to the History Department's 1974 decision regarding the promotion of Associate Professor Linda G. De Pauw and finds that decision invalid because:

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY RESIDENCE HALL COURT

CHARTER

This document is promulgated in accordance with Chapter 2, Section 212, Special Courts, of The George Washington University Judicial System for Non-Academic Student Discipline [hereinafter referred to as the Judicial System Statement].

Section I. General Provisions

(1) Membership of the Court

The Residence Hall Court shall be composed of five (5) students who live in G.W. Residence Halls. They shall be appointed by the President of the University upon recommendation of the Committee on the Judicial System. Their term shall be from May 1 to April 30. [Duties of members are described in Sections 306 and 307 of the Judicial System Statement.]

(2) Jurisdiction

(a) The Residence Hall Court shall have jurisdiction over the following matters:

(1) Allegations that a resident student has committed a violation in or around any Residence Hall; except as noted in Section I,

(2) (b), below;

(2) Allegations by a resident student that the hall government or the Residence Hall Association has exceeded its powers.

(b) Unless referred by the Director of Housing, the Residence Hall Court shall not have jurisdiction over complaints of damage to University property within an individual room, which shall be handled by "damage assessments" by the Housing Office [in accordance with Section 3 "Responsibility for Damage and Loss" of the Residence Hall Disciplinary Regulations, a part of each Resident Student's housing lease].

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

This document is submitted to the President of the University of the District of Columbia for his review and approval. It is a copy of the report of the Committee on the Administration of the University, which was organized by the President in 1968. The report contains a detailed analysis of the current state of the University and proposes various reforms to improve its administration and academic standards. The report is divided into several sections, including a general statement of the problem, a description of the current situation, and a series of recommendations. The recommendations are organized into three main categories: (1) The need for a new administrative structure, (2) The need for a new academic structure, and (3) The need for a new financial structure. Each category contains several specific recommendations, which are discussed in detail in the following sections. The report concludes with a summary of the findings and a statement of the committee's confidence in the proposed reforms.

(1) The need for a new administrative structure. The current administrative structure of the University is outdated and inefficient. It is based on a system of overlapping committees and departments, which leads to confusion and duplication of effort. The committee recommends the creation of a new administrative structure, which would be based on a system of clear lines of authority and responsibility. This new structure would consist of a President, a Vice President for Academic Affairs, and a Vice President for Administration. Each of these positions would have a number of departments reporting to them, and each department would have a clear line of authority and responsibility. This new structure would be more efficient and more effective than the current one, and it would allow the University to better manage its resources and to improve its academic standards.

(2) The need for a new academic structure. The current academic structure of the University is also outdated and inefficient. It is based on a system of overlapping departments and programs, which leads to confusion and duplication of effort. The committee recommends the creation of a new academic structure, which would be based on a system of clear lines of authority and responsibility. This new structure would consist of a number of schools or colleges, each of which would have a clear line of authority and responsibility. This new structure would be more efficient and more effective than the current one, and it would allow the University to better manage its resources and to improve its academic standards.

(3) The need for a new financial structure. The current financial structure of the University is also outdated and inefficient. It is based on a system of overlapping departments and programs, which leads to confusion and duplication of effort. The committee recommends the creation of a new financial structure, which would be based on a system of clear lines of authority and responsibility. This new structure would consist of a number of departments, each of which would have a clear line of authority and responsibility. This new structure would be more efficient and more effective than the current one, and it would allow the University to better manage its resources and to improve its academic standards.

(3) Transferral of cases from the Residence Hall Court

(a) The University Representative to the Non-Academic Judicial System may order a case transferred from the Residence Hall Court to the Student Court (if the sanction called for is suspension from the University for one year or a lesser penalty) or to the Student-Faculty Committee on Appeals (if the sanction called for is suspension from the University for more than one year or a greater penalty).
[in accordance with Section 202.2 of the Judicial System Statement].

(b) The Director of Housing may order a case transferred from the Residence Hall Court to a resolution by the Housing Office if s/he determines that the case may be resolved without formal sanction.
[In accordance with Sections 223.7 and 223.8 of the Judicial System Statement].

(4) Residence Hall Prosecutor

A Residence Hall Prosecutor shall be appointed by the Vice-President for Student Affairs to prepare and present disciplinary cases where jurisdiction is conferred under Section I, (2) (a) (1) above. The Prosecutor shall be a student at the National Law Center.

(5) Chief Judge

A Chief Judge shall be selected by the Court from among its members.

(6) Quorum

A quorum of the Court shall be three Judges.

(7) Statement of Student Rights

The functioning of the Residence Hall Court shall be in accordance with the Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities and the Judicial System document promulgated under that Statement.

RECOMMENDED PROCEDURES ACCOMPANYING RESOLUTION 75/1

- I. Within each of the schools/colleges the Faculty will produce a statement of objectives. The Faculty will identify the ends to be attained and relate functions and programs to those ends. How do courses, programs, and activities contribute to the stated objectives? (May 1975)
- II. A select, small student-faculty-administration-trustee group will consider the several school/college statements of objectives, reconciling differences. Further, the group will cast, for Faculty Assembly approval (Winter 1975), a comprehensive Statement of University Objectives. The Faculty Assembly will request endorsement of the Statement of University Objectives by the Board of Trustees.

As a consequence: All concerned should be able to anticipate that the Statement of University Objectives would become a guide at all levels in policy formulation, resource allocation, facilities planning, personnel practices, course development, and related matters.
